RANSOMWARE VS ZERO TRUST – CYBER RESILIENCE IN THE ERA OF AI

In this new era of hyper-connectivity, digital transformation and AI, once trusted traditional cyber security paradigms, have become less efficient.

Therefore, in this era of commoditised AI, there needs to be a rethink of what it now means to be cyber resilient and then prioritise accordingly. Share strategies and tactics with fellow CISOs while you enjoy the private dining setting at London's iconic Savoy Hotel!

Key talking points include:

- Signs of the times – the new risks
- Key challenges for CISOs and cybersecurity managers
- Overcoming key challenges
- Containing a breach – new perspectives
- Planning for business continuity – sharing best practices and lessons learned in developing robust and reliable cyber resilience plans

Sponsored by Illumio, hosted by Pulse Conferences, we look forward to greeting you and invite you to contribute to the discussion on how CISOs and senior cybersecurity practitioners are building cyber resilience in 2024 and beyond!

We hope that you can join peers for what promises to be a dynamic discussion held under The Chatham House Rule, top culinary experiences and great company in private by invitation only settings.

GUESTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO ACTIVELY CONTRIBUTE TO THE DISCUSSION.

Gain fresh perspectives and draw from the experiences of your peer group, leading to valuable and actionable takeaways. Pulse Conferences will be your host for the evening while you enjoy a top culinary experience!

ABOUT THE SAVOY HOTEL PRINCESS IDA & PATIENCE ROOM

Reception 17:30-18:30
Dinner 18:30-21:30

Looking across Embankment Gardens towards the River Thames and with an excellent view of the iconic Westminster Bridge, this gracious Edwardian-style private dining room in London will be in boardroom style.

Named after the eighth and sixth Savoy Operas, Princess Ida & Patience started life as two of the original private rooms when The Savoy opened in 1889, but the dividing wall was removed in 1935. After several decades of modern redecoration, a major restoration in the late 1990s drew inspiration from original archive photographs of both rooms dated 1906, and the room now reflects its delightful Edwardian heritage.
