HOW TO SECURE THE INTERSECTION OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY, OPERATIONAL TECHNOLOGY, AND IOT SYSTEMS

Join an exclusive gathering of CISOs, CIOs, OT, and cybersecurity practitioners for an engaging and thought-provoking discussion hosted at the iconic Savoy in the heart of central London. Set in the memorable private dining room of the Gondoliers Room, discussions will delve into the critical topic of securing interconnected IT, OT, and IoT environments within key Critical National Infrastructure (CNI) sectors.

As the digital and physical worlds converge, securing these systems has never been more important. This intimate and collaborative session is designed to foster meaningful dialogue, shared insights, and actionable strategies to address the unique challenges posed by IT-OT-IoT integration.

Questions for Discussion:

- What strategies bridge IT and OT teams to improve security?
- How can AI and machine learning be leveraged in IT-OT-IoT?
- What's the best approach to incident response for attacks that span IT, OT, and IoT systems?
- How do you educate and upskill teams to navigate the complexities of IT-OT-IoT convergence?
- What strategies have you implemented to secure ageing OT systems against modern cyber threats?
- How do you manage vendor relationships and supply chain risks?
- What role does regulatory compliance play in your IT-OT-IoT security strategy?
- How are you integrating IT-OT-IoT threat intelligence into SOC operations?
- How do you approach governance and risk management in the context of IT-OT-IoT integration?
- How are you navigating the geopolitical risks?

This roundtable discussion promises unparalleled opportunities to connect with peers to gain actionable insights into the future of security across interconnected systems.

Secure your seat today and be part of this vital conversation shaping the security of tomorrow's interconnected world.

Yours sincerely,
