RESILIENCE & 3RD PARTY RISK IN ACTION

Join us for an intimate gathering at Hotel Gotham in the wonderful city of Manchester to connect with CISO peers as we dive deep into tactics and strategies to adopt a holistic approach to incident response, leveraging automation, cross-functional collaboration, and strong third-party oversight.

• Discuss the key challenges facing CISO/CSOs in establishing resilient incident response practices in supply chains and for multinational organisations operating in other regions with overlapping or conflicting requirements.

Share pain points and solutions arising from the need to adopt a holistic approach to incident response, leveraging automation, cross-functional collaboration, and strong third-party oversight to achieve regulatory compliance and operational resilience.

Questions for discussion:

- How do you ensure alignment between business continuity plans (BCPs) and compliance requirements?
- How do you evaluate the resilience of third-party providers and partners?
- How do you balance compliance with operational agility?
- What immediate changes will you make to improve your third party risk management practices?

Hosted by Pulse Conferences and kindly sponsored by QinetiQ, this exclusive dinner discussion will be held under the Chatham House Rule, ensuring candid and insightful exchanges. Please R.S.V.P. below to confirm your complimentary place in this wonderful private dining setting.

We very much look forward to welcoming CISOs and senior security and resilience practitioners who are currently working in-house within medium to large enterprises.

Yours sincerely,
Team Pulse

ABOUT THE VENUE:

HOTEL GOTHAM
STRONG ROOM
MANCHESTER

Step into the extraordinary world of Hotel Gotham, an upmarket art deco-style venue offering chic rooms with vintage décor and private dining. Located in the heart of Manchester at 100 King Street, this grand listed building—once the premises of Midland Bank—is an architectural masterpiece designed by Edwin Lutyens in 1928. Inspired by the Parisian 1920s and 30s cabaret clubs and the secret bars of prohibition, The Strong Room is hidden behind old bank vault doors, deep within the building's historic underground vaults.

This intimate, atmospheric space is the perfect setting for private CISO 360 roundtable discussions. With its theatrical flair and neoclassical design, Hotel Gotham is not just a venue—it's an experience. The evening's culinary delights will be crafted by Head Chef Rob Taylor and his talented brigade, showcasing modern international menus with an emphasis on fresh local produce and creativity.

ABOUT THE CO-STEERS

DISCUSSION WILL BE CO-STEERED BY A
FELLOW CISO + STRATEGIST

James Mason
Enterprise Security
QinetiQ

James Mason has been working in Information Security for over a decade, specialising in pen testing and advanced attack simulation, working with the world's first formally dedicated pen test team (MoD) and one of the world's first red teams (formed circa 2000), who have proudly never unwillingly shown a "Get out of jail free card" in 24 years. Inspired by some of the best hackers out there, James quickly progressed to a member of QinetiQ's red team. For over a decade, James has successfully infiltrated some of the largest banks, insurance, legal, CNI & other sensitive environments and is proud of his "never been caught record" too. James is extremely passionate about red teaming and the positive values a single exercise can bring to an organisation, its staff and their customers.
