RANSOMWARE & INCIDENT RESPONSE

Ransomware is no longer a hypothetical threat, it's a reality for fintech and tech companies holding sensitive data. Some organisations have already had to make the impossible decision, pay the ransom or risk devastating consequences.

Would you pay? Others are still asking themselves what they would do if faced with that moment.

Join Reliance Cyber and host Pulse Conferences for an exclusive closed-door roundtable, where we'll discuss as a group the critical musts every fintech and tech company must consider when planning for ransomware and cyber incident response.

Expect an evening of insightful discussion, expert perspectives, and peer-to-peer knowledge sharing, covering:

- Lessons from real-world ransomware incidents – what worked, what didn't.
- Legal, operational, and financial implications of responding to an attack.
- Best practices for resilience – preparing your organisation to make the right call.

This roundtable offers a rare opportunity to engage with fellow CISOs and cybersecurity peers and to share experiences. Walk away with practical strategies for strengthening your organisation's response strategies and defences. Don't miss the chance to be part of this dynamic, solution-focused conversation.

We are thrilled to have secured Rules as the venue for what promises to be a dynamic group discussion between CISO peers. More than just a restaurant, Rules is a living relic of London's past!

Yours sincerely,
Team Pulse

VENUE: RULES- LONDON
 ROOM: THE GRAHAM GREENE ROOM
 DATE: THURSDAY, 13 MARCH 2025
 TIME: 18:30–22:30

ABOUT THE VENUE:

RULES - THE GRAHAM GREENE ROOM LONDON

Rules is a living testament to London's cultural history, where literary giants like Charles Dickens, William Makepeace Thackeray, and H.G. Wells have dined. It has been an unofficial 'green room' for the entertainment industry, hosting legendary actors from Henry Irving to Laurence Olivier and cinema icons like Buster Keaton and Charlie Chaplin.

When you visit Rules, you'll see the walls adorned with countless drawings, paintings, and cartoons capturing this star-studded past. Rules stands as a heritage restaurant, fulfilling the desire for the extraordinary and allowing you to dine amidst the echoes of the greats who have graced these rooms.

The Rules restaurant has always been synonymous with serving traditional British cuisine at its finest. We specialise in classic game cookery, oysters, pies, and puddings, and the restaurant offers an unparalleled culinary journey through Britain's gastronomic history.
